Non-Law School Patron Guide to Law Library Access and Use Policies

This guide describes access and use policies at the Robert S. Marx Law Library for non-law students, staff, faculty, and members of the public.

Welcome

Welcome to the Robert S. Marx Law Library!

This guide is intended to introduce you to the many ways that the Law Library can assist non-law patrons. While the primary mission of the Robert S. Marx Law Library is to support research, scholarship, and learning for faculty and students in the College of Law, the Law Library also makes many of its resources available to members of the University of Cincinnati community and the local bench and bar.

Members of the general public, businesses, and organizations may access the Law Library for the purpose of conducting legal research. Individuals who wish to use the Law Library's collection of U.S. Federal Depository documents are also welcome.

Library Service Hours

Circulation and reference are only available during certain hours. Hours vary during holidays. You can check Library hours at 556-0163 or at the Law Library's website. If you need circulation assistance, please contact the Circulation Manager, Justin Ellis.

- Fall Circulation hours:
 - Monday – Friday 8:00am - 5:00pm
 - Closed Saturday and Sunday
 - Monday, Sept. 4 - CLOSED
 - Thursday, May 22 - Friday, May 24 - CLOSED

Discrimination

“A person’s right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.”

— Article V, Library Bill of Rights

"As service workers, library staff are expected to provide excellent customer service in the face of racist and sexist abuse. The philosophy of 'The customer is always right' has caused a lot of damage to library workers. An inability to set appropriate and consistent boundaries because of institutional policies, culture, and support leave staff vulnerable to abuse."

Library Security: Training For Worst Case Scenarios And Everyday Conflicts

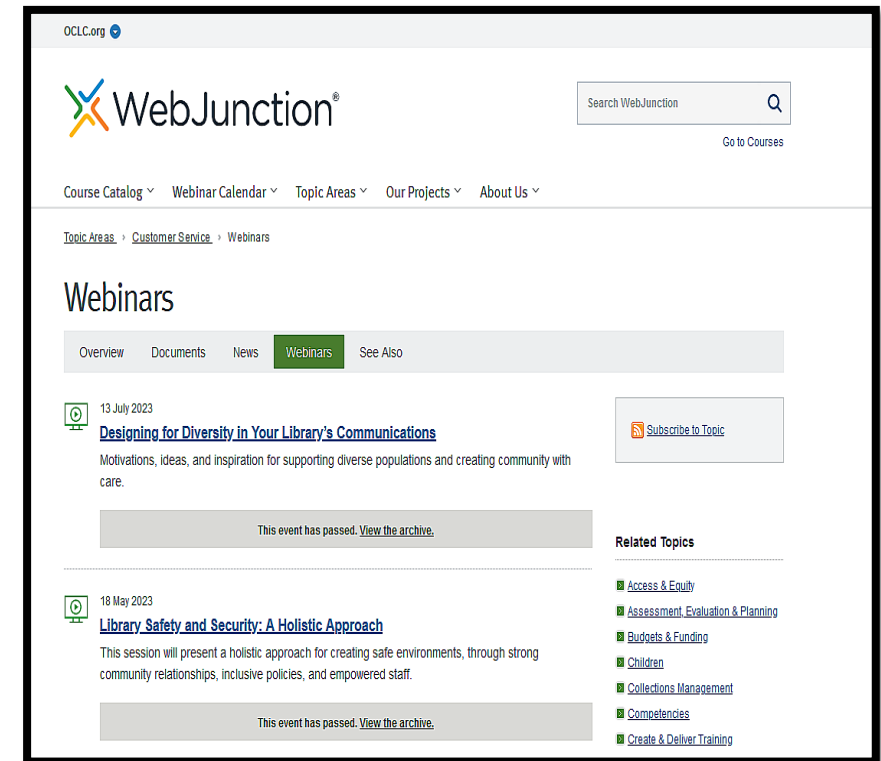

When: Jun 5 – Jul 16, 2023 (6 weeks)

Where: Online, asynchronous
(see more info)

Cost: $250 (10% discount if you register 2 weeks in advance!)

Library managers and staff need to be prepared for 'worst case scenarios' like active shooter events, as well as having practical, effective responses to everyday behaviors. How can you get those wild kids to settle down? What do you say to the client with overpowering body odor? How ready are you for tornado, fire, earthquake or other disasters?

After laying a groundwork of common sense, consistent responses, we will discuss policies, procedures, internal communications and ways of gaining community support.

Collaborations

The screenshot shows the Ohio Legal Help website. At the top left is the logo for Ohio Legal Help. Navigation links include "About" and "Find a Lawyer". A search icon, a user profile icon, and a red "Donate" button are on the right. A blue banner below the navigation contains the text "Need legal information, forms or a lawyer?". Below the banner is a grid of six service categories, each with an icon and a label: "Family" (family icon), "Housing" (building icon), "Consumer and Debt" (wallet icon), "Health & Public Benefits" (first aid kit icon), "Seniors" (elderly couple icon), and "Labor and Employment" (briefcase icon).

The screenshot shows the Hamilton County Help Center website. The top navigation bar includes the "Help Center" logo and links for "HOUSING", "SMALL CLAIMS", "DEBT", "COLLECTING JUDGMENTS", "CUSTODY", and "OTHER ISSUES". The main heading reads "Welcome to the Hamilton County Help Center". Below this is a large photograph of the center's interior, showing a reception desk and waiting area. At the bottom, a text box states: "The Help Center provides people with education, information, and limited legal advice to access our courts, pertaining to Municipal Court and Juvenile Court in Hamilton County, Ohio."

The screenshot shows the University of Cincinnati Legal Access Clinic website. The top left features the "University of Cincinnati LEGAL ACCESS CLINIC" logo. The top right navigation bar includes links for "Home", "Our services", "Meet Our Team", "Blog", "Support Us", and "Contact Us". The main image shows three people sitting at a table, with a woman in a yellow top holding a document. Text overlays on the image include "Need Legal Help?", "The Legal Access Clinic", and a "Schedule An Appointment" button. Below the image, the "Our Mission" section is visible, with text describing the clinic's goal to decrease inequalities in the justice system.

Overview

This guide provides a quick overview of Nolo self-help legal publications available through the University of Cincinnati. Nolo is a leading provider of plain-English legal information and products for consumers and businesses. Nolo's goal is to provide reliable, plain-English legal information that anyone can use to handle routine legal matters.

When using Nolo titles, please note that many of the Nolo titles available through UC are no longer updated. To locate updated Nolo titles consider searching the catalog of your local public library. Also, off-campus access to electronic versions of Nolo titles is available only to UC faculty, staff, and currently enrolled students.

Please contact any of our UC Law Librarians if you need assistance in finding or using any of the resources in the guide.

Best Practices for Law Libraries

- Establish clearly defined and well-communicated behavior policies for public and staff
 - Make sure they are reviewed by legal counsel
 - Make sure they describe the enforcement measures, including due process and fair warning
- Establish regular training
- Document all security incidents
- Audit the library's assets and its protection systems on a regular basis
- Use physical barriers and lock and key security and/or card systems
 - Make sure there is a system of control over these
- Use cameras and alarms as needed
 - Make sure you address privacy concerns/issues
- Use security personnel as needed
- Have simple emergency plans

Best Practices for Law Libraries

- Alarms / Panic Buttons
 - Have a written plan outlining the use of these alarms and the expected response
 - Coordinate with the responders to anticipate actions on the part of the responders and prevent employees and visitors from getting in harm's way in an emergency
